Mission Statement

New London Regalia Manufacturing Company, Inc., has been tailoring regalia and related apparel for Masonic organizations since 1981. In 1999 New London Regalia was purchased from the original owner by Thomas Creative Apparel, Inc., who has been manufacturing choral, judicial and clergy robes since 1972. With a larger and more modern manufacturing facility, New London Regalia and Thomas Creative Apparel were able to consolidate their resources as well as merge a great wealth of employee product knowledge and skill.

One thing that has not changed is quality and servicing our customers. Our service representatives are ready to assist you with designs, fabrics, colors, trims, pricing, measuring and sending samples for your inspection. This is all done at no cost or obligation to you. You will notice a quick response time to orders and requests and a prompt and timely production schedule.

New London Regalia and U.S. Sword Company are centrally located in northern Ohio.

New London is a small community with a population of approximately 2,500.

Routes 60 and 162 intersect in the heart of downtown, where the single stoplight helps to maintain order in the community. To arrive at our factory from Route 60, go east on Washburn Street until you reach the 90 degree curve at the end.

There you will see our facility located on the south side of the street.

From Route 162, turn north on Walnut Street, cross the railroad tracks and Railroad Street. You will see our facility immediately ahead on the west side of the street.

NOTE: Please call ahead for an appointment. We will be sure to have the proper staff on hand to assist you with your needs.

Office hours are Monday - Friday 8:00 a.m. until 4:30 p.m., however the factory closes at 3:30 p.m. If measurements are required you should plan on arriving before 3:00 p.m.
